HE GOT HIS CIGAR.

Sherman Blake Went Ten Miles for It, But Is Happy Now.

Sherman Blake's friends were surprised to see him on the street yesterday, as when he left for his camp a week ago, he said that Barre would know him no more for a month.

His unexpected appearance is explained by the fact that he ran out of Wadsworth Bros' Chicos, and had to come to C. H. Kendrick & Co.'s drug store to get another box.

As he expressed it, "camping without a Chico to smoke is like lemonade without a lemon, and even though I had to come ten miles to get my cigar, I am happy now." While he said this, he looked the personification of contentment, letting a long whirl of fragrant Havana smoke float upwards.

C. H. Kendrick & Co. have just received another shipment of Wadsworth Bros' Chicos, and want all who like a good cigar, better than most ten-cent cigars, to try a Chico, and see how well pleased they will be for half the money, as it retails for a straight five cents.

Soldiers' Home Report.

Supt. Thomas Hannon of the Vermont soldiers' home has just issued the quarterly report of the institution. There were 114 inmates, of whom twenty-three were in the hospital and seventeen on furlough. During October there were six admissions and one death. Five applications for admission to the home are now on file. Not since the institution was opened in 1887 has the membership been so large at this time of the year as at present. Noble Godfrey, of Thetford, who went to the home, intending to enter, has returned to Thetford, an investigation by the superintendent having shown that he was not admissible.

BUILDING IN BURLINGTON.

Aggregates Quarter of Million for the Present Year.

Burlington, Nov. 8.—The building operations in Burlington for the present year, including new structures and such as will be completed within the year, together with the repairs and reconstructions which have been made on a large scale, aggregate a total expenditure of about $300,000. The new Medical College building, completed within the present year, and the new federal building now under process of construction, are not included as buildings erected this year, because they were reckoned in last year's total. The Medical College building cost $104,000, while up to the present time $200,000 has been expended in the construction of the federal building. It is expected that between $40,000 and $50,000 more will be necessary to complete the building according to present plans and an additional appropriation will be sought.

There has been less building in this city during the present season than for several years. It has been stated that labor and material are at present both higher than usual and to these causes are largely attributed the lack of building ventures. The plumbers' strike, occurring early in the season, as it did, handicapped many and made others cautious in attempting to build. There has been no material increase in rents and no influx of population to make more dwellings imperative.

"No Wines," Says Oyama.

The Tokyo temperance magazine, known as Shimizu, gives numerous instances of Japanese military and naval leaders in respect to drink. Field Marshal Oyama counsels total abstinence. The following extracts from these views are translated for The New Voice by Mr. Yoshio Komura, the Japanese vice consul in Chicago:

"Never drink wine," says Field Marshal Oyama.

Major General Fukushima says: "If I had been a drinker, my journey on horseback through Siberia would have perhaps been a failure."

Rear-Admiral Miura says: "I had to refrain myself from taking even sake, although I am a great drinker, while I was bringing home the 'Fujii,' the largest warship we ever had in our navy."

"The late Commander Hirose, a hero of the Japanese navy, had never taken sake nor smoked tobacco," says Admiral Yamamoto, minister of the navy.

The late Colonel Ishikawa said that wine and tobacco were the most formidable enemies of health.

Colonel Senda is very fond of sake, but admits that it is much better and more commendable to save the money to educate one's children than to spend it on such harmful drinks as wine and sake.

The late Captain Nishimura never touched sake nor tobacco, but was exceedingly fond of reading books.

Commander Iwamuro says: "I myself gave up drinking wine long ago and have been a temperance man ever since; however, I became a member of the Temperance Society in order to persuade and convert my friends and subordinates to my principles."

To Mark Capt. Sawyer's Grave.

The Vermont society of the United States Daughters of 1812 will appropriately mark the resting place of Captain Horace B. Sawyer, U. S. N., by placing an 1812 bronze marker on his grave. Captain Sawyer was born in Burlington, Feb. 22, 1797, and died in Washington, D. C., Feb. 14, 1869, and was buried in the cemetery in his native place. He was honored by the Legislature of the state about 30 years ago, being presented with a sword for valuable service on board the United States frigate Constitution at the capture of the Cyane and Levant on the 20th of February, 1815, and during the chase and escape of the frigate.

Firemen Taken Unconscious from Burning Building.

New York, Nov. 8.—Fighting both fire and the peril of gas asphyxiation, 39 firemen were carried unconscious yesterday from a paper box factory fire in Crosby street. Some of them were taken from the building three and four times. As soon as physicians revived them they went back into the burning building to rescue the very men who had a few minutes before carried them out of the poisonous smoke.

The firemen saved several crowded tenement houses near the factory from threatened destruction. The damage to the factory was only about $10,000. The gas came from broken pipes.
